

Raphael Tuck & Sons'

ART PUBLISHERS TO THEIR MAJESTIES THE KING & QUEEN

PICTURESQUE DEVON - Plymouth.

"OILETTE" Postcard No. 7540

By Appointment

LL8344

TUCK'S POST CARD

CARTE POSTALE

The Tamar rises near the north coast of the Cornish peninsula, and pursues a winding course in a south-easterly direction, finally emptying into the English Channel, via the Hamoaze, at Plymouth. It forms the natural and geographical boundary between Devon and Cornwall. The Hamoaze or estuary of the Tamar, is a wide stretch of water at high tide, but with a considerable proportion of muddy banks with a deep channel between at low water.

FOR ADDRESS ONLY

CTPA 12. 9